Commissioner Rodney J. Long Makes Retirement Speech

Alachua County Commissioner Rodney J. Long spoke to the public on Wednesday June 15th, in the Alachua County Administration Building, Jack Durrance Auditorium. He spoke about his decision to retire from the County Commission by not seeking re-election in November of 2012.

Commissioner Long has been involved civically and politically in Gainesville and Alachua County since 1978. In March 1988, Commissioner Long was elected Gainesville's first single-member district commissioner. He was re-elected to a second term in March 1991. In May of 1991, he was chosen by his colleagues to serve as Gainesville's first district mayor-commissioner.

In November 2000, Commissioner Long was elected to serve on the Alachua County Commission, becoming the first African American to serve on both the City and County Commissions. He served three consecutive terms as a County Commissioner

The Downtown Farmers Garden

As the Downtown Farmers Garden approaches its one year anniversary, the County and its partners are taking a moment to look at the accomplishments to date in 2011.

With the assistance of Travis Mitchell, Florida Organic Growers Food Project Coordinator, approximately 100 volunteer hours logged, a host of successful community events, international aid assistance and $500 worth of produce donated to charitable groups the Downtown Farmers Garden is becoming a hub of urban agriculture.

Community partners include: Florida Organic Growers, Alachua YouthBuild, Agency for Persons with Disabilities, Americorps, Grow Gainesville, University of Florida Office of Sustainability and the Downtown Rotary Club. These groups work to make the garden a success.

Elmira Warren to be Secretary to NACHSA

Alachua County Community Support Services Director Elmira Warren has been chosen by the National Association of County Human Services Administrators (NACHSA) to serve as secretary of its organization that represents county human service agencies nationwide. NACHSA works to promote and strengthen networks of county and community human services that protect children, families and the elderly, and that move disadvantaged families into self-sufficiency.

Alachua County Community Support Services Director Elmira Warren

As secretary Ms. Warren will be responsible for recording minutes of the organization's meetings serving as a member of the Executive Committee. Her responsibilities will begin in July, when she will attend the national meeting to be held in Portland, Oregon from July 15th to 19th, which be part of the National Association of Counties Annual Conference.

Ms. Warren will represent Alachua County on monthly calls and updates on federal legislation and will gather and share information about county human service policies, financing, and operations. Most recently NACHSA was requested by the Obama Administration to gather information from the nation's counties to identify regulatory and statutory barriers confronted by agencies when administering programs to serve their residents.

Based in Washington, D.C., NACHSA supports the professional development of administrators committed to delivering quality services to county residents. It provides information from a variety of sources to help counties navigate the ever changing federal landscape. The organization also educated federal policymakers on the roles and responsibilities of county human services systems.

Two Road Projects

The Alachua County Public Works Department is beginning construction on two roadway projects.

The first project is the resurfacing of NW/SW 91st Street from SW 8th Avenue to Newberry Road. This project includes milling and resurfacing the existing roadway, widening and relocating the existing sidewalk, and adding curb and gutter to portions of the road. A construction contract was awarded to DAB Constructors, Inc. for $1.3 million. Work will begin on June 13, 2011, and last through October 2011. The public should expect daily daytime lane closures and delays when traveling through this area.

The second project is the Main Street resurfacing and signalization project from NW 8th Avenue to NW 23rd Avenue. This project includes placing the final layer of asphalt on the roadway from NW 14th Avenue to just north of 16th Avenue, the reconstruction of the signals at NW 10th Avenue and NW 16th Avenue, sidewalk construction, and the placement of fiber-optic cable to connect the signals to the Traffic Management Center. A construction contract was awarded to APAC-Southeast for $1.2 million. Work will begin on June 20, 2011, and last through December 2011. Most of the work between NW 8th Avenue and NW 16th Avenue will take place at night, but the public should still expect delays when traveling through this area.

For more information on both of these projects, contact Chris Zeigler with the Alachua County Public Works Department at 352-548-1271.

National HIV Testing Day

June 27, 2011 is National HIV Testing Day. The Alachua County Health Department (ACHD) encourages residents to take the test and take control of their health. It is an opportunity for everyone in the community to find out their HIV status. Every nine and a half minutes someone in the United States is infected with HIV. Thirty years after The Center for Disease Control reported the first AIDS cases in the United States the epidemic continues.

ACHD in support of this important health initiative will be providing free screenings on June 27, 2011 at the following locations:

A Walk in the Woods

On Saturday June 4th, the Alachua County Environmental Protection Department teamed up with the Florida Trails Association to lead a nature hike for National Trails Day at the County's Mill Creek Preserve. The event was a success with over 30 attendees ranging in age from young children to older adults. Dennis Miranda, the Executive Director of the Florida Trail Association and Chris Bird, Director of the Alachua County Environmental Protection Department, kicked off the event with short presentations on the benefits of hiking, the Alachua County Forever Program, and the importance of conservation lands in protecting water resources, wildlife habitats and natural resource-based recreation.

The roughly 3 mile hike meandered along trails in the 1,230 acre Mill Creek Preserve. Swallow-tailed kites, summer tanagers, blue purple web spiders, and the beech magnolia slope forest were star features of the hike. Hikers also learned about resource management activities occurring on the preserve. Over all it was a lovely morning in the woods with a great group of people.

Those who missed this event can hike the scenic nature trails in Mill Creek Preserve. Click here to visit the County's website for more information about Mill Creek Preserve and other Alachua County conservation lands.

Burn Ban Extended until June 21st

After reviewing Alachua County's current wildland fire conditions and the area weather forecast, the mandatory countywide burn ban has been extended through June 21, 2011. The ban will remain in effect until formally terminated by a majority of the Alachua County Board of County Commissioners.

The mandatory burn ban affects all of Alachua County, including rural and municipal areas.

The countywide mandatory burn ban prohibits all of the following:

All outdoor burning that has not been specifically permitted by the Florida Division of Forestry

The use of any fireworks, sparklers, flares, or other pyrotechnic devices except as provided by law for public displays requiring a permit

* Please note that the ban does not affect agricultural burning permitted by the Florida Division of Forestry for land clearing or prescribed burning purposes.

Although the use of LPG/LNG grills and charcoal grills is permitted, the public is encouraged to keep a constant watch for any stray sparks or embers while cooking outdoors. Additionally, due to the potential for accidental ignitions, the use of motorized equipment such as ATVs and dirt bikes is discouraged during times of high wildfire risk. Please bear in mind that lawnmowers, both push and riding, pose accidental ignition risks. Citizens are asked to exercise extreme caution during the burn ban. Working together, Alachua County's citizens, and local fire suppression agencies may avoid a repeat of the 1998 wildfires, which scorched 7,100 acres locally.

Any burning within the County during the imposed ban will be in violation of Alachua County ordinance 86-1, sections 10.08 and 10.09 and section 252.50 of Florida Statutes. It will be considered a second-degree misdemeanor, punishable by up to a 60-day imprisonment and up to a $500.00 fine. All County and municipal law enforcement agencies are authorized to enforce the ordinance.

For more information, please contact Alachua County Department of Public Safety at 352-384-3101.
