Be Courageous, Shape the Future

The Alachua County Board of County Commissioners invites citizens to participate in the upcoming public discussions entitled, "Community Conversations 2011." Light refreshments will be served.

This series of events feature a brief presentation of the County's budget and issues facing the County, followed by an interactive table-top activity in which citizens step into the role of a commissioner in recommending service priorities. During the session, opinions are electronically surveyed on a number of local issues and participants are given opportunities to suggest solutions to local budget issues.

Alachua County Manager, Randall H. Reid states, "It is very important for residents from many different parts of the county to attend, if we can get more people to attend, that dynamic is really rich."

For more information, contact Alachua County Office of Management and Budget at 352-374-5262.

To participate in one of these discussions, RSVP below:

County Manager's FY12 Budget Message

The Alachua County Commission held a special meeting on Thursday, July 7, 2011, in which the County Manager Randall H. Reid delivered his annual presentation of the FY12 Tentative Budget Message.

According to Manager Reid's Budget Message, "Essentially, our FY12 Tentative Budget discussion revolves around the delicate and difficult balance of providing adequate funding for sufficient levels of services to sustain a quality community. The key question is 'What is enough?' When are we paying enough taxes? When are we providing enough services? In a representative democracy, this is done by determining if there are enough citizens willing to pay enough taxes to generate enough revenues to fund enough services to sustain a quality community. There will always be needs for more services than we can provide in the eyes of some citizens, and we will always be discussing levels of taxation that are beyond the level acceptable to some citizens. Severe economic change, new state mandates, shifting demographic trends, and evolving community growth patterns are issues that require a reconsideration of the key question, 'What is enough?' My goal in the budget submittal is to assist the Board in answering that question over the next several months and do so in a way that keeps our community values intact."

Strike Out Hunger Food Drive Workshop

In recognition of National Hunger Month in November, Alachua County Commissioner Rodney J. Long is inviting citizens to participate in the Alachua County communitywide "Strike Out Hunger Food Drive". To plan the food drive, there is a workshop and planning meeting that will develop a strategic plan to meet the needs of citizens who are challenged nutritionally by providing non-perishable foods to local food pantries. The workshop is on July 26, 2011 at 10 a.m. in the Alachua County Health Department Auditorium located at 224 S. E. 24th Street, Gainesville.

The purpose of the workshop is to form a collaborative effort with local businesses, faith based organization, educational institutions, government, law enforcement, private not-for profit agencies and city and county residents, to develop a comprehensive, annual, communitywide food drive.

"We will work together to develop a strategic plan for a county-wide food drive," Long said, "We will assess strengths and weakness in our present efforts, establish linkages and create a food security system that will improve the self-reliance of community members over their food needs."

Please RSVP by July 16, 2011 by emailing Marie Small at mdsmall@alachuacounty.us or by calling call her at 352-264-6745.

Pretrial Services Receives Re-Accreditation By FCAC

The Alachua County Pretrial Services Program received its first re-accreditation by the Florida Corrections Accreditation Commission (FCAC) on June 28, 2011, at the Florida Police Accreditation Commission Conference held in Bonita Springs, Florida. The Florida Corrections Accreditation Commission, Inc is supported by the Florida Department of Law Enforcement in Tallahassee, Florida. Law enforcement agencies, inspectors general offices, correctional facilities and agencies with pretrial services can achieve distinguished accreditation status through the Florida Corrections Accreditation Commission, Inc.

The Alachua County Pretrial Services program received its initial accreditation February 2008, as the first non-sworn Pretrial Services program in the State of Florida and the nation to receive this honor.

Though accreditation is not mandatory, this process allows Pretrial Services programs the opportunity to evaluate their operations against standards developed by the FCAC. FCAC worked closely with the Association of Pretrial Professionals of Florida (APPF) to develop professional standards in support of evidenced based practices for pretrial agencies in Florida. These standards were developed based upon comprehensive research of: Florida Statutes, the Florida Rules of Criminal Procedure, and the American Bar Association's Criminal Justice Standards for Pretrial Release, FCAC operating standards, and standards adopted by the National Association of Pretrial Services Agencies.

In the final report to the Commission, Alachua County Pretrial Services Investigations, Electronic Monitoring/Global Positioning Satellite (GPS) components were highlighted as well as all staff completing the national certification. The report concluded by stating,

"The members of the Alachua County Pretrial Services demonstrated an overall commitment to the accreditation process, and their quest for excellence is commendable. Staff certification through the National Association of Pretrial Services Agencies (NAPSA) is outstanding. It is clearly evident the command staff and staff are eager to maintain a The staff members are very knowledgeable, and it is apparent they perform their work responsibilities according to agency policies and accreditation standards on a daily basis."

In addition to being recognized by the Commission as being innovative and nationally recognized as a leader in the field, they were impressed with Alachua County's overall operations. Also noted was the impact the program makes on the entire criminal justice system including key system stakeholders: the Department of the Jail and the judiciary in a quest to support pretrial justice for citizens of Alachua County.

The Pretrial program recognizes the value of earning this status and is both proud and honored to receive this distinction.

Environmental Ambassadors Tour the Supervisor of Elections Office

On Wednesday, July 13th, Alachua County Supervisor of Elections Pam Carpenter hosted an educational tour with students from the Environmental Ambassadors program. Seven student ambassadors along with Nkwanda Jah, director of the Cultural Arts Coalition, met with the Supervisor of Elections and her staff to learn about elections and voting. Supervisor Pam Carpenter spoke with students about the importance of making their voice heard by voting in all elections and for candidates who believe in the issues that are important to them. She also encouraged the students to become active participants by not only voting, but signing up to be Election Day poll workers, campaign for candidates running for office, or even running for office themselves.

Students were provided an opportunity to practice their new voting skills. By using demonstration ballots and the optical scan voting equipment used in Alachua County elections, students participated in a hands-on voting experience. Several Ambassadors registered to vote and signed up to work as Election Day poll workers.

In addition, Ambassadors learned that the Elections Office is aware of their environmental impact. The office recycles office paper and aluminum products, shreds and recycles elections materials once it has passed the required retention period, sets thermostats to preserve energy, as well as turns off lights and equipment at night and when not in use.

The Environmental Ambassadors program is a four-week program where students learn how to maintain, protect, and respect the environment, learn the importance of recycling, water and energy conservation and to reuse things that are normally thrown away. Through the Ambassadors Program, students gain an appreciation for the environment while understanding various environmental issues and concerns. The program is conducted annually and participants also have the opportunity to meet with governmental and elected officials.

Neighborhood Stabilization Program Homes Available for Re-Sale

The Alachua County Department of Growth Management is pleased to announce that purchase offers are now being accepted for three recently renovated homes purchased by Alachua County through the Neighborhood Stabilization Program, (NSP). One home is located in unincorporated Alachua County at 3713 SE 14th Terrace; one home is located at 3009 NE 11th Terrace, in northeastern Gainesville. The third home is located at 12017 NW 164th Terrace, Alachua, FL.

12017 NW 164th Terrace,
Alachua, FL

3009 NE 11th Terrace, in northeastern Gainesville

3713 SE 14th Terrace

Each home features a new roof, Energy Star windows, appliances and has been painted inside and out, providing an opportunity for a low to moderate income family to buy a home at an affordable price. Homes are being renovated to bring them into compliance with the standards of the minimum housing code as well as to increase the energy efficiency of each home. Three NSP homes have been sold to date.

Alachua County was awarded NSP funding by the State of Florida

Department of Community Affairs to stabilize neighborhoods impacted by high rates of foreclosure or abandonment. Foreclosed homes have been acquired and rehabilitated within designated areas of the community. Homebuyers must meet NSP income requirements. For example, a family of 4 earning $69,960 would qualify to buy an NSP home. Buyers are required to complete an approved home buyer's education course, and cannot currently own a home at the time of an NSP purchase. Other program requirements must be met as well, such as being approved by an institutional lender for primary financing to buy the home. Secondary financing is also available through NSP to ensure affordability. Alachua County requires that all offers be submitted by a licensed Realtor to ensure the buyer's interest is fully represented in the transaction. Buyer's Realtor will be paid a 3.5% commission from the proceeds of the sale.

Photos and prices of all three homes as well as the NSP Information Packet are available on the Alachua County Department of Growth Management's website (click here to view), or by calling Jenny Poole, Housing Programs Coordinator, 352-337-6283 or jopoole@alachuacounty.us. Homes are offered for sale at appraised value after repairs have been completed. Offers are now being accepted and are due by 5 p.m., August 2, 2011, at the Alachua County Department of Growth Management (10 SW 2nd Avenue in Gainesville). Offers must be submitted by a State of Florida licensed Realtor. Offers submitted after the deadline may be accepted as back-up offers only, at the discretion of Alachua County.

Realtors interested in showing NSP homes and submitting offers must contact Jenny Poole, Housing Programs Coordinator at jopoole@alachuacounty.us to obtain an offer package.
