An Invitation to 2012 Community Conversations

Let your thoughts and ideas help shape the future of Alachua County

The Alachua County Board of County Commissioners invites you to attend "Community Conversations 2012."

The event will feature a brief presentation of the County's budget and a discussion of the issues facing the County. During the session, you will participate in an electronic survey to gather your opinions on a number of local issues. You will then have an opportunity to suggest solutions to tackle these issues. In addition, an interactive table-top budget exercise, will cast you in the role of County Commissioner as you collaborate with others to establish service priorities.

"Public/Private partnerships have become increasingly important in these lean economic times," County Manager Rick Drummond commented, "With Community Conversations 2012, citizens will partner with us by lending their thoughts and ideas to the FY2013 budget discussion.

Light refreshments will be served.
